Mountain View Council Meeting.

A meeting of the council of the Mountain View Municipality was held at the office in Didsbury on Wednesday, April 9th. All the councillors were present.

In addition to the regular routine of business, machinery representatives were interviewed regarding the purchase of an elevator grader.

A letter from the department of public works was read asking the amount of capital grant the municipality was prepared to earn by work on the market roads during the year. The secretary was instructed to negotiate with the department and have the grant arranged.

The income grant from the department was reported to be $1,842 and the municipality will provide a duplicate amount to be expended on the roads.

A grant of $200.00 was voted to the Salvation Army.

A communication was presented from the department of public health in connection with the travelling clinic with regard to their services for the removal of tonsils, adenoids and other minor surgery, also dental services which can be obtained at very reasonable rates. The council laid the matter on the table until a demand from the ratepayers was made for these services.

A number of accounts were passed for payment.

A. G. Studer Re-models Store.

A. G. Studer has just completed extensive alterations of his store. The grocery department is now arranged in self-serving style. The dry goods, men's wear and boots and shoes are all departmentised.

The store is very attractive and gives an opportunity to see all the merchandise and the service will be much quicker than formerly.

Easter services in the Evangelical church will be observed by special song and sermon, both morning and evening next Sunday.

Dairymen Seek Duty On Butter.

Asking that the Alberta government, in co-operation with other provincial governments, unite in a request to the federal government for an immediate emergency tariff of 4 cents a pound against Australian and New Zealand butter, in order to prevent "dumping" of the Antipodean product on the British Columbia market to the detriment of Canadian butter, a delegation of Northern Alberta dairymen met Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture, Friday afternoon.

The dairymen pointed out that Canadian butter is placed in unfair competition with the New Zealand and Australian product, because of the low price at which the surplus butter of those countries is "dumped" into the B.C. market.

Mr. Hoadley told the delegation that the government was fully in sympathy with their objective and that action would be taken at once to endeavor to have the situation remedied.

Educational Convention Meets Easter Week.

The Twentieth Annual Convention of the Alberta Educational Association which meets in Calgary Easter week offers the teachers and others interested in education an opportunity to hear an educationalist of outstanding ability and reputation, in Dr. Boyd H. Bode of Ohio State University, whose life work is the training of teachers.

Dr. R. C. Wallace, the President of our own University, will be heard for the first time by Alberta Teachers and the Executive has arranged a discussion for Thursday morning by outstanding educationalists on the validity of our educational objectives.

The Excelsior Glee Club will furnish a treat on Wednesday evening for the lovers of song and the city should offer an attraction for visitors for the Easter Season and last, but not least, the opportunity of renewing friendships formed at the seats of learning.

LOCAL & GENERAL

All business places in town will be closed tomorrow (Good Friday.)

Mrs. J. Hugel was a visitor to Calgary this week.

Mr. H. B. Adshead, M.P. for East Calgary visited his son, Mr. C. Adshead this week.

Mr. Tom Sharman who has been under the weather for the past few days is now out and around again.

Mrs. Hugh Lee spent a few days in Calgary last week, returning the latter part of the week.

All the Didsbury pupils who are attending Normal School at Camrose will be home today (Thursday) to spend their Easter Holiday.

Miss Knudvig of the hospital staff, who has been visiting her brother in the Peace River country, returned home Monday.

Ladies Aid of Knox United church will hold a Bazaar, Tea and Food Sale on Saturday, April 19th, at the Didsbury Opera House from 2 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Wrigglesworth who has been visiting her son, Mr. L. Wrigglesworth, returned to her home at Rocky Mountain House on Wednesday.

What might have been a serious accident occurred near the railroad crossing on Sunday night. A party of four in a Studebaker coupe were driving north, when the car went into the ditch and was overturned. The car was badly smashed but the occupants were not seriously hurt.

The rain and snow we have received this week has been greatly welcomed by the farmers. The precipitation has been general throughout the west. Seeding in this district is well under way and a considerable acreage of wheat has already been sown. The farmers will now be able to proceed with their work with more confidence in the prospect of getting a good return for their labor.

This is our faith tremendous,
Our great hope who shall scorn;
That in the name of Jesus,
The world shall be reborn!

Does not your soul leap to that slogan of God? It does.
Verily so shall the souls of folks listening to the Easter Message.

Mrs. F. Mertens, of Innisfail, was a visitor in town on Tuesday evening.

The ladies of Didsbury are preparing to form a golf club and an organization meeting will be held at an early date.

Special Easter services will be held at St. Cyprian's Church, as follows:—Good Friday—7-30 p.m. Easter Sunday—Communion: 12 o'clock noon; Evensong, 7-30 p.m.

Coming!—On Sunday evening, April 27th, the members and friends of the Evangelical church are to be favored with another sacred drama based on the bible record of "Peter the Rock" and his call to discipleship, including many lessons for present-day discipleship. A group of Christian Endeavor young people from Mayton Ev. church, led by Rev. and Mrs. Orlanda Hehn will present the program.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late Mr. John Witmer of Acme, Alberta, took place here in Didsbury Evangelical Church on Saturday, April 5th and was attended by a large number of local relatives and acquaintances. The deceased was one of the early settlers in this district and also an adherent of the Evangelical church until the time of his removal to Acme about ten or fifteen years ago.

After ailing for some time, death was caused by carcinoma of the stomach, in his 48th year. The floral tributes in great profusion, spoke louder than words of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. He leaves to mourn his departure, a sorrowing widow, two step-children, an aged father and one sister, both living in Kitchener, Ontario, and three brothers here in Alberta. Interment took place at the Didsbury Cemetery.

Didsbury Tennis Club Organise for 1930.

The tennis meeting held in the telephone office on Tuesday evening was very poorly attended, only seven persons were present. J. Boorman was elected president and R. L. Robson as sec.-treas. The following fees for the coming season were approved by those present:—Gentlemen $5.00., Ladies $3.00., Students $3.00 and $1.50 per month for visitors. Where there are two or more members in a family, $1.00 will be deducted from each ticket.

R. L. Robson and Bob Eubank were elected to make all arrangements re repairing of the courts.

Any person desiring to play tennis this year, please advise the president, J. Boorman or the sec.-treas., R. L. Robson as soon as possible.

"The Broadway Melody," the all-talking, singing and dancing picture which is being shown at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday night is one of the most dramatic spectacles ever shown. It is an amazing story of the Gay White Way. Nothing like it has ever been seen before.

The time of making garden is near at hand and it is also time to pen up the chickens. There is perhaps nothing that causes so much hard feelings in a locality as for chickens to wander on a neighbor's premises and garden. Some say they do not do any harm. That makes no difference. Your neighbor does not want to be annoyed with your chickens and you should not cause trouble by allowing your fowls to run at large. A hen that will not stay in the enclosure will usually make a fine Sunday dinner.

Children Cry for it

Children hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and harmless as the recipe reads. (The wrapper tells you just what Castoria contains.)

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, use it to keep the system from clogging. Your doctor will tell you Castoria deserves a place in the family medicine cabinet until your child is grown. He knows it is safe for the tiniest baby; effective for a boy in his teens. With this special children's remedy handy, you need never risk giving a boy or girl medicine meant for grown-ups. Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

What Do You Get Out Of Life?

Among the many publications which come regularly to the writer's desk is a little monthly magazine called "The Value World," published as the house organ of a great manufacturing company having offices, branches, warehouses and factories all over the world, including every Canadian Province, except Prince Edward Island. One of the regular departments in this magazine is headed "From an Old Fogey's Inglenook," and consists of informal, personal chats of a most interesting, informative, and inspirational character. They are thought-provoking, while at the same time bringing comfort to the reader. They are a spur to one's ambition, a ray of sunshine on a gloomy day, an incentive to be up and doing, and to endeavor to find and appreciate true values in life.

Thoroughly enjoying "Old Fogey" as we do, we are this week passing on through the medium of this column one of the "gems" appearing in a recent issue. We quote it in full as it appeared under the heading, "One Recipe For Happiness."

A short story I was reading recently pictured a woman who had just lost her husband through an accident. One of her condoling friends said: "How sad he had to go so soon." To which the widow replied: "I am thankful for having had him so long."

I can see in this one recipe for happiness; one way toward the possession of a tranquil and grateful soul. Instead of letting sadness over the bereavement depress her, because it had come so soon, she was thankful because it had been delayed so long. She could find that life had been better to her than it might have been, and that gratefulness for this was much better than sadness over the reflection that it might have given her more.

Life brings us much or little, largely as we take it. We get much or little out of life chiefly through our point of view as to what is much and what is little. It may seem little to us that we awakened this morning ready for another day of activity, or it may seem much that another day with its possibilities is before us. It is quite within ourselves to say "Another day in which anything may happen; another day of opportunity; another day to be alive and useful and helpful, and to do a bit more climbing; another day to grow in gentleness, to add to knowledge, to spread cheerfulness, to develop character, to stretch out the helping hand, to hold up the valiant head, to lengthen the forward stride. Another day to hope and to love and to add to our store of happiness."

It's all in the point of view. How infinitely better it is to be thankful that life has been given us and is giving us so much, than to be sad because we cannot have more. To say: "Good night, friend, I am glad to have had you so long," rather than: "I am sorry you have to go so soon."

It was the writer's first intention to offer some comment of his own on the above, but we refrain. It is complete in itself. We, therefore, merely say to you: Read it again; clip it out for future reading on some day when you are inclined to feel that life is hard, or monotonous, and unsatisfying, and yielding you so little. Remember it is chiefly your own point of view of what is much and what is little. You can make it much if you will.

If the world is a stage, the majority of people are merely scene-shifters.

Britain's Playgrounds

Many Of World's Largest Parks Are Within the Empire

Within the confines of the British Empire are some of the biggest playgrounds in the world. Canada heads the list with no fewer than eight national parks, embracing an area of over 12,000 square miles; mostly situated in the Rocky Mountains amongst scenes of grandeur and beauty unsurpassed anywhere in the world. Jasper Park, in Northern Alberta, with an area of 4,517 square miles—two-thirds as big as Wales—is the largest of them. National playgrounds on a grand scale also constitute a feature in New Zealand. The two largest are the Tongariro National Park in the middle of the North Island, and the Fiordland National Park in the South Island. Fiordland Park, besides being one of the two biggest in the world, incloses within its borders sounds, lakes, rivers, waterfalls, and mountain scenery of remarkable beauty and grandeur. One outstanding feature is "The World's Wonder Walk," winding through a series of stupendous canyons and majestic gorges from Lake Te Anau to Milford Sound.

WAS WEAK AND PALE

Health Restored Through the Use Of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Mrs. Leo. Bedard, Quebec City, tells how her health and strength were restored through the use of that great blood-building tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Bedard says: "Some three years ago, after the birth of my little boy, I was left very weak and pale. I did not seem to have any strength, and at times I was so dizzy I would nearly fall down. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I did so. In a few weeks I was surprised to notice the difference in my condition—I felt like a new woman. I continued taking the pills until I had used ten boxes, by which time I had completely regained my former health and strength. I feel that I cannot praise too highly Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for what they have done for me."

To the woman in the home—the woman closely confined through household duties—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a positive blessing. So if you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood, or weak nerves, begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now, and note how quickly your health will improve and your strength return. The pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Saskatoon Civic Utilities

The water works department at Saskatoon shows a net surplus for the year 1929 of $31,717.59, as compared with $18,561.54 for 1928. The revenue for the year was $214,241.16.

Electric Bulbs Frozen Into Ice At New York Skating Club

Skating on ice illuminated from incandescent bulbs frozen in the ice furnished a thrill to many at the Lake Placid Club this season. An 18-foot star, outlined with 150 10-watt yellow colored bulbs and the initials of the club in four-foot letters of red and green 25-watt bulbs in the center, has been frozen into the huge rink made by flooding the club's tennis courts. The light is reflected through the five inches of ice covering the bulbs much the same as through glass and present a most spectacular appearance.

Honored First German Poetess

On February 9, 1930, Germany's women writers commemorated in Hamelin the 1,000th anniversary of the birth of Hroeswitha, who, according to history, was the Fatherland's first poetess. Offspring of a noble Saxon family, Hroeswitha lived and died as a nun at the Gandersheim convent near Hamelin, the city of the Pied Piper.

Requires Master Craftsmen

Mosaic Workers In Rome Are Skilled In Art

The Vatican mosaic works, one of the most unusual manufacturing plants in the world, are ready to consign to the Roman Catholic University, at Washington, D.C., their latest production, a copy of Murillo's "Immaculate Conception," valued at $25,000.

Few tourists making the rounds of the Vatican galleries and St. Peter's, know of the existence of the mosaic. Yet, the shop is one of the oldest in Rome, and one of the best known in the art groups of Europe.

A visit to the plant is an education. Here one sees master craftsmen whose skill has been passed on to them through generations of fathers and grandfathers who were artists in mosaic before them. They are men of infinite patience, in addition to their skill, for a mosaic may take from two to ten years to complete.

A few statistics help to explain the reason. When the visitor is told that there are actually 27,000 different colors or shades of color from which the mosaicists must choose, and also when he is told that thousands of small pieces of material, first heated to an intense degree, are later inserted one by one into special form, each one being chosen meticulously for its shade of color, he will begin to understand why. One mosaic has been known to require twenty years for completion.

Many have been relieved of corns by Holloway's Corn Remover. It has a power of its own that will be found effective.

British Antarctic Expedition

Undertaking On Ambitious Scale Is Being Planned

A new British Antarctic expedition, the London Daily Herald says, is being organized under the leadership of Commander Frank Worsey, who was skipper of the "Endurance" in Shackleton's South Pole expedition.

The paper said the expedition was to be on an ambitious scale and might include aeroplanes. It will cost in the neighborhood of £25,000 ($125,000) and will be both commercial and scientific in purpose.

Record For Panama Canal

Tolls Amounting To $86,665 Were Collected In One Day

A new high record for the amount of tolls collected from traffic through the Panama Canal in one direction in one day was established on January 18, 1930, when $86,665 was collected from fourteen ships transiting from the Pacific to the Atlantic. The list of vessels was headed by the steamer Virginia of Panama-Pacific Line, on which tolls amounting to $15,210 were assessed. The average amount collected was $6,190.35.

The previous high record for tolls collected on canal traffic in one direction was established on December 8, 1928, when $86,224.78 was collected from twenty-two ships transiting from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Value of Canada's Dairy Products Now Closely Approximates the Value of Our Mineral Production

In a comprehensive report for the year 1928, on dairy factories in Canada, just issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics, some interesting information on the dairy industry is given. The value of all dairy products for the year reviewed is estimated at $297,625,347, of which creamery butter accounted for $61,702,538; dairy butter, $29,103,000; factory cheese, $30,494,463; home-made cheese, $82,000; miscellaneous dairy factory products, $20,581,490, and milk, 636,117,568 gallons, valued at $152,661,856. The report states that the per capita consumption of butter in Canada is 29.06 pounds, said to be the highest in the world.

The value of Canada's dairy products in 1928 was only about $10,000,000 less than the total value of the mineral production of the Dominion last year.

The dairying industry in Canada dates from 1608, when Samuel de Champlain, the famous French explorer, whose name is prominently identified with the earlier history of Canada, brought a small number of cattle from France to the colony of Quebec. Cattle were introduced into Acadia, now Nova Scotia, in 1632. The first exports of Canadian dairy products to the United States dates from 1801. The first Canadian cheese factory was established in Ontario in 1864, and the first creamery in Canada for butter making was opened in Quebec in 1873. There are now 2,833 dairy factories in operation in Canada of which 1,216 are creameries, 1,301 cheese factories, 287 combined butter and cheese factories and 29 condenseries. The number of farmers who supply milk and cream to these factories totals over 256,000.

Testing Out New Flower Varieties For Garden Plot

Have you a trial garden plot in your garden, a little space reserved for the testing of floral newcomers and novelties? You are missing some of the fun of growing flowers if you haven't. It is said that novelty is the spice of life and the flower world is full of novelties.

Every year brings its new introduction in floriculture. They are featured in the seed catalogues and in the magazine advertisements. Some of these novelties may be worthy of more or less permanent places in your garden; others may not be. The best way to learn which have merit and which have not is to test a few each year. The cost will not be prohibitive and you will be well repaid the expense in the amount of enjoyment you will gain. Go over the lists of new things and select three or four that particularly appeal to you and buy small packages of seeds from reliable firms.

Plant the seeds in a space in your garden specially reserved and prepared for such purposes and follow cultural directions carefully. In other words: Give the novelties a fair trial. Your interest in your trial plot will grow with the plants and you will await, with no little impatience, for the first blooms to appear.

Not Much For Surplus

Railway-Earned Dollar Has To Be Split Many Ways

A typical railway-earned dollar must be split many ways before the numerous demands upon it are satisfied, a recent analysis of the average "dollar" earned by Frisco lines during 1929 reveals. Forty-three and a fraction cents out of the dollar goes for labor, almost 6 cents for fuel, more than 14 cents for material and supplies, 5.65 cents for taxes and 13.61 for interest, while rentals, personal injuries, loss, damage and depreciation take another 7 cents. After that terrific onslaught on the dollar, 10.98 cents are left for dividends and surplus.

(By Annebelle Worthington)

The jacket dress is one of the most important ideas for Spring.

The model illustrated is one of the best I've seen.

It will serve for sports, spectator sports, or afternoons, according to the fabric selected.

It is charmingly flattering in black silk crepe. The long-waisted bodice of the attractive dress has an inset at front of eggshell shade crepe accented by black bows and piping. The eggshell crepe also lines the jacket and appears in collar and rever facing. The dress may be made with or without sleeves.

For sports and street, it is very conservative in tweed of lightweight in brown and white colouring in rather an indefinite diagonal weave. The inset of dress of harmonizing brown plain woolen is repeated in jacket lining and facing.

For Spring, printed silk crepe in new dark green tones with plain green crepe, independence blue silk crepe with eggshell red and white chiffon and purple wool jersey with orchid faille crepe are stunning selections.

Insect War Resumes

Entomologists Using Means To Combat Ravages Of Insects

A mighty army of mites wages ceaseless warfare on all forms of plant life and just as ceaseless is the warfare waged by skilled entomologists to protect and preserve farm, field and garden crops. Experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have already planned intensive campaigns against field crop pests for 1930, including grasshoppers, the wheat stem sawfly, wireworms, the pale western cutworm and his ally the red-backed cutworm, the bertha armyworm, the early cutworm, the Colorado potato beetle, the imported cabbage butterfly, and the root maggot. They also have a watching brief against the forest pests, including the aphids on maple, willow and elm, the spruce spider mite, the forest tent caterpillar and the box elder leaf roller and twig borer.

The Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture have much interesting information in bulletin form dealing with these and other insect pests.

Real Mummified Wheat

Professor Says Seed Which Sprouts Is Not Genuine

Professor Melchers, botanist of Kansas State Agricultural College, who spent two years in the Nile Valley investigating plant diseases at the invitation of the Egyptian Ministry of Agriculture, has in his possession what he is positive is genuine mummified wheat. It was taken from the pyramids and is believed to be 5,000 years old.

The professor said supposedly mummified wheat which has sprouted is not genuine but is a fake seed which has been colored and made to appear as mummified grain and then sold to tourists.

The ancient wheat in his possession has the shape of the ordinary kernel but is red in color, due to oxidation during the centuries it lay in the pyramid of Sakhara. Under slight pressure the grain turns to red dust.

When To Plant

Best Time To Plant Vegetable Garden Having Regard To Classification Of Seed

The perennial problem of when is the best time to plant garden crops has again come around. An interesting and useful guide in this direction is furnished by the Central Experimental Farm of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Flower can be set out quite early, but

"The safest guide as to the proper time to plant vegetables is first of all to divide the various crops into groups. The first group comprises those that are considered hardy or able to withstand very cool conditions; those that are semi-hardy and must be planted when conditions are more favourable, and lastly those that are very tender, requiring warm, moist soil and ideal seasonal conditions for their proper and normal development."

"Those that fall in the hardy group are onions, smooth and wrinkled peas, spinach, radish and turnip. The average date of early planting of seed of these hardy crops in the division of horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, has been found to be the first week in May."

"In the second or semi-hardy group we find cabbage, cauliflower, beet, carrot, lettuce, parsnip, and wrinkled peas. The plants of cabbage and cauliflower can be set out quite early, but they must be well hardened off so that they will withstand quite low temperature."

"The third group which includes beans, celery, corn, cucumber, melon, pumpkin, squash and tomato should not be planted until settled warm conditions have arrived. The soil must be warm and moist thus giving quick uniform growth. The best time for planting these crops is from the end of the third week in May until about June 10."

Record Of Performance

Report Of Record Of Performance For Pure-Bred Dairy Cattle For Past Three Years

Dairymen throughout Canada will be particularly interested in the twenty-first report of the Canadian Record Of Performance For Pure-Bred Dairy Cattle, covering the years 1927, 1928 and 1929, issued by the live stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The report contains a detailed record of every animal whose record was such as to merit being placed on the honour roll up to November, 1929. Individual records are listed by class groups and are readily available to the individual through an index to owners.

Complete details as to standards and registration by classes and rules and regulations are included in the report.

Made Him Too Good

JJimmy, the little boy next door to us, was sitting on our front porch looking very lonesome.

"Where's your little playmate Billie?" I enquired.

"Aw, he got a spankin' this morning and he's always so good for a while after that I have to play by myself," was the disgusted reply.

LONELY RESTING PLACE

The remains of the Carl Ben Eielson aeroplane as it was found on the coast of Siberia after weeks of fruitless search under adverse conditions.

Just a few days ago, the Canadian House of Commons did a remarkable thing. Without division it approved a motion requesting the Government to consider subsidizing "County Health Units," in order that the health of rural Canada might be given better protection.

The gigantic scope of such a project at first eludes one, as does the great significance of the fact that by approving the motion without division, the House put the question of national health where it belongs—out of the field of party-politics.

This is extremely fortunate, for it enables every Canadian citizen to discuss, and to give his approval without rancour or considerations of party affiliations to what is probably the greatest piece of health-legislation ever contemplated in the history of the world!

For the County Health Unit scheme, when it is in working order throughout the Dominion, as it is bound to be eventually, and as it already is in parts of Quebec, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, will save more Canadian lives, and more Canadian dollars than the majority of us realize are now being wasted. For there is no doubt that future generations will look back upon our present-day rural health management with horror, as being little short of criminally negligent.

At the beginning of this century, the country was a healthier place to live in than the city. In fact, most of our readers will probably be surprised to learn that it is so no longer. Actually official statistics prove that the farmer has much less chance of long life and health than has his city cousins, and the reason is simply that the city man's health is looked after scientifically, by modern, up-to-date public health departments, while the farmer, and the small-town dweller do not share in this advantage, because it costs a great deal of money, and the country and the small town cannot afford it.

The County Health Unit Plan, providing as it does, for Federal and Provincial payment by subsidy of two-thirds of the cost of each County Health Unit, the municipality served paying the third, recognizes and acts upon the fact that health is a national asset, and that rural lives are as valuable to Canada as urban ones.

Surely this is eminently sound on practical, as well as humanitarian grounds. Everyone, regardless of political affiliations, agrees that Canada, supporting social machinery capable of serving more than double her present population, needs people more than anything else in the world. We seek and are willing to pay for immigrants of the right kind. Yet every year we lose rural-born, native Canadians by the thousands, years ahead of their time, through diseases which could be entirely eliminated, for example, diphtheria and typhoid, both of which are preventable and could be wiped out within a generation, and through tuberculosis, heart disease, complaints peculiar to infants and their mothers, scarlet fever, cancer, despite the fact that proper measures of public health can save and in some centres are annually saving many lives from all of them.

Quebec has attacked this problem. She has 17 rural health units in operation, and expects soon to have eight more. Consider what happened in Beauce County, Quebec, following the organization of such a unit in 1925.

During 1926 there were 643 deaths in the district from general causes. In 1928 this figure dropped 156 to 487. Similarly, infant deaths were reduced from 213 to 160; deaths from tuberculosis from 56 to 51, and deaths from contagious disease, from 86 to 27. Statistics, indicating the reduction of disease generally are not yet available; but a study of the death-rate makes logical the assumption that this too, must have been comparatively important.

Grandmother—"I suppose you think this old farmhouse is rather small dear, after being in the city so long?"

Little Betty—"Small, grandma? Haven't you ever seen a kitchenette?"

CANADA IS FASTEST GROWING DOMINION

That Canada still holds first place in the British Empire as the fastest growing country economically and financially was stated by Hon. W. G. Ormsby-Gore, very recently, in London, England. He thought it was a remarkable fact that the colonial section of the Empire—the vast federation of non-self-government territories—had made greater economic advance than any other people of the Empire, except Canada, since the war.

The colonial group came very close to Canada when the growth of exports and imports since the pre-war period was reviewed. Colonial production had increased three-fold since the war. Imperial preferences, he urged, would help in the development of the colonies which as a group could become the biggest economic entity within the British commonwealth.

GREAT CONSUMERS

Canadians Have Increased Their Consumption of Home Products

At a recent agricultural coast-to-coast conference in Ottawa, it was shown that although Canadians are producing more butter, eggs, pork and other "land" products than ever before, we have less than ever to export. We have no grip on the Old Country market because our shipments are small and erratic. The reason for our lack of goods to export was laid at the door of general prosperity, with Canadians as a whole increasing their consumption of good quality products, faster than production is increasing. By the time every Canadian is fed there is little left to export.

The conference at Ottawa decided that production has by no means reached a maximum; that both quality and quantity could be raised in order that export markets might be established and maintained without fluctuation and uncertainty.

The fact that wheat growing at a profit is presenting a much more complicated problem, than in previous years, turns the mind to the other branches of agriculture upon which mankind is dependent.

The world must have food, and farm products are by no means confined to wheat—beef, mutton, eggs, poultry, bacon, all are in demand.

If more of all these products were available, export marketing organizations could be established and could function with a confidence, handling merchandise uniformly throughout the year. If Canada could be secure in filling the demand of the export market, it would also stabilize prices of the home market.

NEW LAWS FOR TOURISTS

Bona fide tourists "seeing Alberta" by automobile may now operate their cars for as long as six months without having to take out an Alberta license, according to an important amendment to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act 1924, passed by the Alberta Legislature recently.

The amendment provides that the tourist must register his car within 24 hours of arrival in the province with the Alberta Provincial Police, out in the case of a United States car even this will not be necessary, production of the customs permit when called upon to do so by any police officer being sufficient authority.

A "visitor's sticker" will be issued by the A.P.P. for cars registered by them and this sticker will be considered sufficient for the licensing and registering of the auto to which it is affixed.

Another important amendment to the act reduces the fine for driving without a driver's license from $1 to $5 instead of from $5 to $25.

A heavy penalty is provided for the person driving an auto during the suspension or after the cancellation of the driving license or car license, this being $25 to $100 for a first offence and not more than 30 days' imprisonment, and for a subsequent offence $100 to $500 or a term not exceeding six months' imprisonment.

Infraction of any of the provisions of the criminal code may also draw down cancellation or suspension of the driver's license.

WHY KEEP OLD HENS?
In discussing methods of increasing egg production, F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, asks the very pertinent question, "why keep old hens?" He provides the answer by citing official figures from tests conducted by the Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture showing that when pullets are tested against hens the average yearly profit over cost of feed is, for the pullet $3.35 and for the hen $1.66; presented in another way, it costs 20 cents to produce one dozen eggs through pullets as against a per-dozen cost of 35 cents with old hens. It is also pointed out that it takes 60 eggs to pay for the cost of the bird, and any pullet or hen which doesn't lay at least this number is just a bill of expense. There are a number of good ways to getting hens that will lay a profit over their cost and keep.

ONE THING THE U. S. HAS NOT GOT
There have been many "good ones" on the American tourist, but one of the best appeared recently in an exchange. A Geneva correspondent writes this exchange to the effect that the Americans crowd to see the "workings" of the League of Nations, although the United States is not a member of the League.
One prominent business man from the Middle West, so the story runs, had been shown from cellar to garret. He thanked his guides and then unburdened himself:
"You certainly have a fine institution here, and my eyes have been opened to its value. I shall not fail to tell my friends and associates in America what the League is doing. But to me, I must say that the most remarkable feature of it all is how such a small country as Switzerland can have a League, while the United States hasn't got one."
And that constitutes another "good one" on the United States.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE SAYING
THE LOCAL MERCHANT WANTS YOUR BUSINESS

Editor, Alliance Times.
This is for publication if you wish to print it.
I have been bothered of late with Alliance business firms' pamphlets in my mail, advertising their wares and explaining how I can "save on my purchase by buying at their store." This point may be debated on but we'll let it go. We know what goods are worth and we know what business men ask for them and every man does not make his purchases with the sole object of saving a nickel; some men are willing to pay a little more and trade in their own town, when they know they can get the same article for less money by sending away. They do it to be helping their fellow citizen in his business and by so doing keep the money at home and some of it will find its way back to them. That is true business principle. This method of advertising must be paid for out of the profits on their goods and it requires a postage stamp for each individual a pamphlet is sent to, besides the expense of printing—pretty expensive I should think. But what gets my goat, the printing is not done at home. They want us to trade at their store while they are not willing to trade at our printing office.
We have an up-to-date printing shop in Alliance where anything can be done in that line, always on time and up-to-the-minute the management of which is never "lying around drunk," always able to attend to business, here for that purpose and needs the money.
They want us to trade at home—all right, we'll think it over.

Noted Jersey Breeder Visits Didsbury.

One of the best known breeders of dairy cattle in western Canada is Edgar Dumvill of Sardis, B.C. He spent last week-end in Didsbury, visiting at the home of Norman Clarke.
Mr. Dumvill has just finished a trip through the different dairy districts of Alberta. He is convinced that the country surrounding Didsbury is the best he looked over and the possibility of building up a profitable mixed farming business here very great indeed. Farmers located at Didsbury should have no trouble, according to this expert, in making a lot of money out of their farms through the production of butterfat. Feeding costs here should be much less than in B.C. or in other and dryer parts of Alberta.

Warns against cutting brush.
It is a great mistake for farmers to cut all the brush on their farms, says Mr. Dumvill. He points out that in many parts of the province, soil-drifting is now becoming a very grave menace to the owners of farms. If clumps of brush were left here and there the winds could not get a clear sweep at the top soil and spread it all over. When a man buys a farm he really pays for the few inches of rich loam on the top which grows him his crops. In a windy country like Alberta, in the spring several inches of this valuable top soil may be lost in one season if it is not protected by plenty of moisture or clumps of brush.
He also believes moisture would be conserved by drifting snow if there were wind-breaks to hold it from blowing away. In travelling up and down Alberta at this time of the year he noticed the grass was green behind the snow fences constructed by the government to protect the roads in the winter.
Mr. Dumvill is visiting the province in the interests of the Jersey breed which is rapidly gaining in Alberta, due to the hardiness of these animals and the economical manner in which they produce butterfat. He called at the home of Stewart Tighe and admired the cows he saw there. It will not be long according to Mr. Dumvill until every farmer will be milking a herd of Jersey cows as they save time in feeding, milking, separating and live on much less feed than any other cow.

A SIMPLE TREATMENT FOR CHILDREN'S COLDS

Cold in the head is very common at this time of the year, especially in the very young. Neglect of a cold is prone to lead to serious consequences. To relieve all congestion of the system is the first step in treating a cold, whether in infants or adults. For the very young, Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal means of doing this. Containing no narcotics or other harmful drugs they soothe the child's fretfulness, relieve its suffering and ensure convalescence.

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for relieving indigestion, constipation and colic. They check diarrhoea; break up colds and simple fevers; promote health-giving sleep and make the dreaded teething period easy. The Tablets are the one medicine that a mother can give her little ones with perfect safety as they are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Unknown History Makers

Hundreds Whose Words Live, Have Always Been Nameless

There are hundreds of people whose names we do not know, though their words have passed into history.

There is the nameless, well-dressed woman, who, meeting Wordsworth walking by Loch Kathrine one fine evening, observed, "What, you are stepping westward?" She gave the poet the idea for his poem, "Stepping Westward."

There is the watchman who passed under Peppy's window crying, "Past one of the clock, and a cold, frosty morning!"

There is the man who first invented the Breton fisherman's petition as he put out to sea, "Oh, God, do Thou help and guard me; the sea is so wide and my boat is so small."

And who was the poor dame who, when questioned by a kindly bishop, held up her dry crust and said, "I have all this, and faith?"

And there are, of course, all the unknowns whose words are sung and said around the world and will not pass away.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

MARSHMALLOW SALAD

- 4 oranges.
- 2 bananas.
- 1 cup marshmallows.
- $\frac{3}{4}$  cup cream.
- Yolks of 2 eggs.
- 2 tablespoons sugar.
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice.
- Sprinkling salt.
- 1 cup fresh grated cocoanut.

Cut oranges into sections, slice bananas and cut marshmallows into quarters. Mix with dressing made by scalding cream and thickening it carefully with egg yolks, beaten until light with sugar. Cool dressing and add lemon juice and a light sprinkling of salt before adding fruit. Serve with cocoanut.

CARROT AND PEA DELIGHT

Boil two cups of cubed carrots until tender. Combine with one cup of cooked peas. Make a sauce of three tablespoons flour, three tablespoons butter or fat, one and a half cup milk, two teaspoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper. Add the cooked carrots and peas, reheat and serve very hot.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

Women and Peace

Those millions of signatures taken to the naval conference in London, England, by the women of the world signifying their desire that war and vessels of war be abolished constitute a factor so momentous in world events that it cannot be slighted by the delegates who govern its deliberations. It long has been said that women usually get what they want. In this case it is a question of their getting the abolishment of something they do not want.

Use Minard's in the Stalle.

WHY SUFFER FROM YOUR LIVER?

Why be handicapped with unsightly blotches on the face, eyes with yellow tinge and that tired and languid feeling? This indicates a torpid liver.

Headache, Dizziness and Biliousness surely follow. You must stimulate your lazy liver, start the bile flowing with Carter's Little Liver Pills.

They also act as a mild laxative, purely vegetable, free from calomel and poisonous drugs, small, easy to swallow, and not habit forming. They are not a purgative that cramps or pains, unpleasant after effect following, on the contrary a good tonic. All Druggists 25c and 75c red pkgs.

Some Interesting Exhibits

Remarkable Things Shown By Royal Society In London

One of the most interesting of the exhibits arranged by the Royal Society for its conversazione, in London city for its conversazione in London, recently, was the Fabray-Perot Interferometer, lent by the National Physical Laboratory. By means of this apparatus measurements up to a millionth part of an inch can be obtained with accuracy, says an overseas paper.

Another instrument shown was the Brown artificial horizon, named after its inventor, Mr. S. G. Brown. The principal feature of this invention is a gyroscope fitted with a mirror, which turning at the rate of six thousand revolutions a minute, remains in a horizontal position irrespective of any external movement. The instrument is specially intended for taking altitudes of the sun at sea by sextants, or for obtaining the true horizontal when the weather conditions prevent the natural horizon from being seen.

Another invention which attracted much attention was the mutochrome, an instrument with a wide range of use in decorative trades. A design, in outline, is first projected on to a screen, and then, by means of colored lenses in the apparatus each separate element in the pattern can be colored, and the colors changed at will until the desired effect is obtained. A modification of this instrument is contemplated for application to theatrical stage scenery.

When Politeness Is Costly

Politeness costs nothing, says an adage. But it costs a lot according to a big skyscraper elevator man, who says that when a man removes his hat in an elevator, it takes up the space of half a passenger, amounting to exact cost of current in a year to $25,000.

Sensible People Do Not Envy Millionaires

Money Is Useful But No One Needs Excessive Amount

Statistics show that the United States has 40,000 millionaires and one man in the billion-dollar class. It is not likely that any other country in the world can show so many millionaires, and it is just as well that such should be the case. No man living and in his right mind needs a million dollars. That may strike some readers as an exaggerated statement, but it is not. He can't take a copper of it with him when he is through with this world, and the chances are that he will leave vast sums to his children, and money secured in that way has done more to spoil young folks than poverty ever did.

A Gateway To the North

Lakes and Waterways in the Alluring Hinterland That Lead To the Arctic Ocean

Prince Albert National Park in the province of Saskatchewan promises to become the most frequented gateway to the waters of that alluring hinterland of Canada as yet so little known. Beyond park boundaries, to the north, west, and east, lie a succession of lakes and waterways, extending like the links of a silver chain for literally hundreds of miles; on the northwest, finally reaching the waters of the Far North and the Arctic Ocean, and on the east, Hudson Bay.

Persians are taking up the piano, 50 instruments having been imported into the country last year.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

CHAPTER VI.—Continued

"There's nothing to be scared of," declared Grandma, "unless it's Sarah Bennett. Like as not she'll discover something wrong about you. She says the Wickfield girls are all 'provincial.' Jim told me so himself. I looked in the dictionary and it said that provincial means countrified and rude. Well! If Charmian looks countrified I wish you'd tell me so; but she's not rude. Her manners come from the Davises, and they all had a way with 'em even when they were poorer than Job's turkey. Some day I'll tell Sarah Bennett what I think of her."

"I'll do it for you if ever I have the chance," replied the doctor with heart-warming sympathy. "And you needn't worry about your granddaughter. I assure you there's nothing provincial in her make-up."

TAKE NO CHANCES WITH BABY!

Cook Her Food in the "Health Ware"

Doctors recommend Enameled Ware for cooking baby's food. It is so simple to clean . . . so easy to keep sanitary and free from germs. It cannot stain. There is no metal surface exposed to the food. Nothing to absorb moisture, flavors nor odors.

McClary ENAMELED WARE

W. N. U. 1830

"Well, you ought to know," responded Grandma, "coming from a big place like Boston. I guess my girl's all right even—"

Charmian had been an amused spectator of this scene, but now she interrupted with a laugh.

"Come, Grandma, you've talked me over thoroughly enough; and we must start along if I'm to be any use to Mrs. Merry. Your supper's all laid out on the kitchen table; and don't you dare to wash a single dish. Just leave them in the sink. I shan't be late; and if you need anything you can call up Doctor Howe, and he'll let me know."

"I shan't need anything," replied the old lady promptly. "You run along and have a real good time. And don't you be too snippy to Jim Bennett, either. He's a good boy, and not entirely responsible for his own actions."

"Oh, I'll be good to him!" promised Charmian, laughing; and Grandma leaned forward in her chair to watch the two young people start off in the direction of the old white church that faced the village green.

"Provincial!" she snorted angrily. It was plain to see that Sarah Bennett's comment was not to be treated lightly. "I don't believe it. I guess I know a country bumpkin when I see one, even if I haven't been out of Wickfield for five years. Charmian's a sight more stylish, and stands up straighter than those fashion plates in the mail order catalogues from Chicago; and she never did a rude thing in her life. She's Luther Davis all over when it comes to manners. Why, she even thanks Tommy Goomy when he takes away the garbage, though goodness knows it's not a favor. He and that Eldridge boy had an awful fight one Saturday to see which would get it."

Grandma was so stirred up that an automobile passed without her seeing it as she went on indignantly: "And talk of hats! Why, Charmian could trim one herself that would make that green mail-order hat that Sarah Bennett's making such a fuss about, look like the tail feathers to a rooster! There goes Sarah now. She's got on her brown taffeta, and if she helps in the kitchen like she usually does, it's liable to get spotted. I declare, I almost hope she spoils it!"

Suddenly Grandma laughed at herself, and relaxed a little. "I'm afraid I'm getting real spiteful in my old age," she murmured. "I ought to be ashamed; but for Sarah Bennett to put on airs to a Davis, is a drop more'n I can swallow. There goes Emmy Bascomb and the twins. I wish Emmy'd stop and let me see her new shirtwaist but I suppose she's in a hurry. She's waving, and so are the children. They look terribly cute in their new dresses, one pink—one blue, same as usual."

"Dear me! I don't see how anybody stands living on a side street where there's not much passing. I wish I'd had Charmian put my supper on a tray in here. I don't want to miss anything while I'm eating. If only somebody'd stop in on an errand I'd get 'em to fix it for me. There goes Gam Garfield, but he's reading his paper and won't look up. Here comes an auto. I do believe it's Jimmy Bennett, and—"

Grandma rapped sharply on the window, and Jim, who was looking at the house almost against his will, saw her summons and stopped his car. She beckoned, and he came in asking:

"You want something, Grandma? I saw you wave."

"And it's lucky for me you did," smiled the old lady. "I want you should bring my supper in from the kitchen. Charmian left it all set out on the table, but I don't want to miss the passing just as every one's going to the church. You take that big tin tray in the buttery, and put everything on it. The tea's in the teapot, and all you've got to do is to pour in some hot water from the kettle. I don't mind eating a little early, and maybe no one else would be coming by that I could ask."

"You want it on the card table, Grandma?" asked Jim affably. "I'll move it over before I get the feast."

"That's right, sonny. It's plain to see you're handy about the house. There goes Lizzie Baker, hurrying as usual. For a wonder she hasn't got on her apron, but she's carrying it in her hand. It's real fun eating here by the window, Jimmy. Sort of like having a front seat at the opera."

Jim steadied the little table, and peered for a moment into the quiet street.

Drowsiness is dangerous.

Wearily miles seem shorter and the day is brightened when you have Wrigley's with you.

Its sugar pep's up you. Its delicious flavor adds to any enjoyment.

A five cent package is safety insurance

"Can't say that I see any—well, similarity," he remarked. "I guess Charmian gets some of her ideas from you, Grandma. She's forever seeing things that I can't see at all. Is that table in the right place? Now I'll go after the grub."

"Be sure you don't forget the tea," called the old lady as he moved away. Jim turned, his face suddenly gloomy.

"Forgetting's not one of my habits, Grandma Davis," he said soberly. "There are times when I wish to thunder it was."

He was gone before Grandma could reply, but she closed her eyes a moment in an effort to get his meaning. When she opened them the Merry's Spitz dog, Gypsy, was trotting along the sidewalk opposite carrying a huge ham bone, and in watching him hunt a place to bury it, Grandma forgot her helper till he appeared, bearing a well-loaded tray.

"He's buried it under Lizzie Baker's lilac bush!" she exclaimed excitedly. "I declare, he's smart as a human being. Probably he's saving it for a rainy day. He's gone off toward the church again, thinking to get some more scraps most likely."

"Scraps?" echoed Jim, puzzled, as he laid down his burden. "Who are you talking about? What's been buried under Miss Lizzie's lilac? You sound like an adventure story, Grandma—pirates, you know, burying pieces of eight."

Grandma chuckled.

"It was a treasure all right, to him, Jimmy. I'm talking about the Merry's Gypsy. There's not a cuter dog in town, and if you ask me, I'll say he knows a sight more than some of the Wickfield voters do. What's all this stuff for, sonny? I don't need two forks or—"

"Maybe not," replied Jim, a twinkle appearing in his brown eyes, "but I'm a conscientious objector on the subject of eating with my fingers—that is, when it can be avoided. There's plenty here for two, and—"

"You going to stay?" broke in Grandma, beaming.

"I thought if I hinted plain enough that perhaps you'd do the rest," grinned Jim; and with a flourish he set a small, round shortcake in the centre of the table.

CHAPTER VII.

"Well," exclaimed Grandma, as her self-invited guest drew up a chair and proceeded to pour the tea, "that is real cozy! It's not often that I have company when Charmian's away. She'll be surprised enough when I tell her I had the handsomest young man in town to supper with me. Give me a drop more cream, Jimmy. This tea's so hot I can't drink it. Maybe you'd have had a better supper at the church; but you can console yourself remembering that it's a kind deed to keep an old woman company."

"I didn't hint for that invitation in order to do any kind deed," replied Jim amiably, "but because I wanted to stay. You don't seem old to me, Grandma. Some ways you seem younger than Charmian."

To his surprise Grandma's face sobered.

"Sometimes I think I feel younger," she admitted. "Charmian's got too much responsibility on her shoulders—has had, ever since she was born. One thing, she works too hard; and there are times when she gets discouraged though she doesn't say so. The Davises never were folks to whine about things. They take life as it comes and make the best of it. I've sometimes thought that if Charmian only had the chance she'd be a poet, like her grandfather. When she was a little girl she wrote some real pretty verses about the first violet. But she's never had time to give to it as her grandpa had."

As he looked up at an ugly crack in the ceiling, it struck this practical young man that if Grandma Davis had given more time to the farm and less to poetry, his granddaughter wouldn't have to worry about finances. Not wishing to voice this thought he took a mouthful of bread and butter that made speech impossible; while Grandma, turning toward the window, said:

"There goes those summer folks from over South Wickfield way! Do you suppose they're going to the church? Last time they came the woman gave two dollars for a loaf of Emmy's spice cake, though all they were asking for it was one-fifty. She wouldn't take the change; and she bought all Charmian's fudge and your mother's ginger cookies. It's a wonder her folks weren't sick with all that sweet stuff in the house at once. Is it true that they're going to set off fireworks on the common after supper? Mrs. Merry told us they were thinking of it. I'd admire to see 'em. I've never seen all the fireworks I'd like to see."

Little Helps For This Week

"By works a man is justified, and not by faith only."—James II. 24.

No answer comes to those that pray
And idly stand,
And wait for stones to roll away
At God's command;
He will not break the binding cords
Upon us laid,
If we depend on pleading words,
And will not aid.

The great human duties are prayer and work,—prayer for every needed blessing, and work to realize it,—prayer, as though God must do the whole, and work, as though we must do it ourselves. These are the two poles of the great galvanic battery.

in spite of the rough roads. Roll-call was answered by naming different ways of using rhubarb. The topic for the meeting was "Agriculture" and was taken by Mrs. Ed Klinck, who dealt with tree planting on the prairie. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J.
Hughes and the topic will be in charge of Mrs. R. MacFarlane.

Gravel Highway Costs $3,200 per Mile.

C. A. Davidson, highway commissioner for the province, states in the Union of Alberta Municipalities Research Bulletin, that grading for a new highway through a town costs approximately $1,000 per mile for the grading and $2,200 per mile for graveling, making a total cost of $3,200 per mile for a 24 feet width.

The annual maintenance of a gravelled road he puts at a cost of $450 per mile.

Harder Surface.

He asks town councils to keep in mind that the present gravelled surface of the Calgary and Edmonton highway is not typical of what it will be five years hence, as a harder surface will be used in that time in the way of paving.

He recommends looking ahead and preparing for the future and quite strongly urges highways being constructed round the outside of a town so that the heavy truck and through traffic may be diverted from town or city streets where traffic may become congested.

In no case will the provincial department allow a main highway to pass along in front of a school.
